

“To me, they represent the ideal academic couple, and their intertwined scholarship has yielded splendid results in the field of Asian religions. Koichi's work on Chinese Buddhist biographies and rituals, in particular, stands out. I wish them a long, happy, and prolific retirement.”

-Bernard Faure, Columbia University